

Education on promoting eco-innovation and sustainability

Klára Szita Tóth, University of Miskolc, Hungary

Borut Kosec, University of Ljubljana, Slovenia

Education plays a crucial role in adopting more sustainable lifestyles as well as in seeking creative innovative solutions. This session will cover many different aspects of teaching on LCA, from short course approaches to integration of LCA themes in university study programs. Contributions focusing on methodological aspects as well as specific case studies related to education sectors are welcome.
